

Chalkley-Fenn Public Policy

Visiting Scholar

Opportunity & Endowment Fund

Advancing Civic Engagement

Contributors:

- Stimulate interest in public policy as it affects the family and consumer sciences profession
- Educate scholars in the policymaking process
- Provide avenues for interaction with members of the United States Congress, agency personnel and leaders of FCS related organizations
- Sustain the profession

Today your contributions to the Chalkley-Fenn Visiting Scholar Endowment Fund are critical to advancing civic engagement.

The Chalkley-Fenn Public Policy Visiting Scholar Award was established in 1990 to honor the work of Gladys Branegan Chalkley, president and treasurer of AAFCS from 1940-1942 and founder of the Montana Affiliate of AAFCS. The scholarship is partially funded by a generous gift from the estate of Geraldine G. Fenn, a South Dakota native and Extension Specialist who spearheaded development of the 4-H Foundation for Montana.

Chalkley-Fenn Visiting Scholars:

- Spend time at AAFCS headquarters
- Access opinion leaders and policy-makers in our nation's capital
- Focus on affecting public policy change across the nation
- Foster civic engagement on public policy issues among the AAFCS membership and in communities
- Advance the profession
